The Social Work Code is implemented by regulations of the Employment Services (Managerial and Advisory Committee) 1964 – 2963 and in addition, the Employment Services Regulations of 1976 – 2986.

A. Benefits and rights of people with disabilities, which are granted by the Social Services Department in the Ministry of Labor:

General services of diagnosis and rehabilitation at the rehabilitation centers 2:

- Diagnosis of skills, abilities and preferences;
- Development and acquisition of work habits, work skills and between people;
- Completion of elementary and secondary education;
- Vocational training or interest in a job that would allow the person to be integrated into the open labor market;
- Assistance in obtaining a job in the open labor market through employment services and monitoring;
- Referring to alternative rehabilitation solutions such as vocational training courses, protected employment, supported employment centers and day centers.

The right is given to people aged 26-55 who are not entitled to rehabilitation services and do not reside in a recognized educational framework, as well as people aged 12-55 with physical, sensory, mental, behavioral or developmental disabilities, who are "possessing the potential for integration into the open labor market or protected and need for examination, guidance, preparation and professional rehabilitation at the rehabilitation centers." People referred to the unit through the health courts are entitled.

The referral to the rehabilitation centers is limited to a maximum of one year, according to community-related factors. Extension of the period requires approval of the regional service for rehabilitation and coordination with the department of social services 3.

Providing care in day centers 4:

This is done as a daily basis in the community in which services such as transportation, meals, personal care (mobility assistance, feeding, dressing, etc.), preventive and social activity, social and work activity, and social services.

According to the regulation 4(2), "providing social services to the needy and providing meals according to regulations and guidelines of the General Manager of the Ministry of Labor." See annex A to chapter 1. See also chapter 21 for section 5.

The Code-BB52-4111-CCB6-1180211E5A7B10/5/512.pdf. (Specifically for blind and people with visual disabilities – regulation 6.21 of the Code). It is clarified that the right to rehabilitation services is determined according to regulation 5.1(2965) of the Code, according to whether a person was determined, in accordance with the Employment Services Regulations (Examination of Needs) 1962 – 2963, as not being able to work either in the region and in general, entitled to receive rehabilitation services. In addition, the health courts have the right to refer people to receive rehabilitation services even if they were not determined as not able to work, if the rehabilitation plan is required due to family, social, economic or other reasons. Providing services is subject to approval of the regional rehabilitation committee. Calculation of the right is based on the parents' income according to the guidelines 2.11-2.13.

In the Code, despite clarifications that have been carried out, we have not received information from the Ministry of Labor regarding the effectiveness of these centers.

The clinic for people with disabilities

Mediators: Mr. Moshe Podhorzer, Rashi Foundation.

The center aims at adults between 28 and 55, with severe physical disabilities, living in the community who meet at least one of the following categories:
- Without a rehabilitation framework or after previous attempts in a rehabilitation framework;
- Inadequate functioning in most areas of life;
- High dependence on drugs, mainly in the 5th family.

The participation rate will be at a height of 21% of the total income of the family unit (excluding the child allowance) and no more than -3.3 points (i.e., NIS 691).

Participation fees will be transferred to the local authority.

The scheme "Community Supports Independent Living for Disabled People" includes:
- A family service unit with physical disabilities including a telephone service that provides assistance 14 hours per day; medical emergency services such as home visits of a medical doctor for 14 hours per day, ambulance services and medical evacuations for 14 hours per day; assistance for special needs - assistance for personal medical services, rescue services and repair of wheelchairs, transport services and repair of assistance equipment for people with wheelchairs; social activity or social enterprise at least every two weeks: an event for cultural and sports activities, lectures, three tours for one year and at least three tours for every two years.

The rights to the program are people with physical, sensory, or psychological disabilities, with at least 41% of disability from the national insurance fund, between the ages of 28 and 65, and include participation in the program.

According to the report published by the national insurance fund, the target population is slightly different, and includes adults (between 12 and 65) with various types of disabilities (physical, sensory, mental, cognitive) living in their own homes in the community; disabled as a result of a chronic illness or as a result of a combination of illness and disability; disabled people such as those living alone or with elderly parents, new immigrants, not recognized by the authorities, people in transition, people whose situation has deteriorated or are in isolation.

The program is expected to be implemented by the local authority. According to the report mentioned above, the model "Community Supports Independent Living for Disabled People" began to operate in 2010 and by the end of 2019 found 11,511 disabled people in large cities and periphery where members of 2,511 disabled people.

It is intended to implement the following: 48 per cent of the fees for which no information was received from the Ministry of Finance regarding the effectiveness of this program.

According to the report mentioned above, the Ministry of Finance has not received information regarding the effectiveness of these centers.

Despite the discussions held, we have not received information regarding the effectiveness of this program.

According to the table attached to the report, when the average income per person is up to NIS 1,191, the monthly participation is 41 NIS; when the average income per person is up to NIS 3,235, the monthly participation is 61 NIS; when the average income per person is up to NIS 4,281, the monthly participation is 81 NIS; and when the average income per person is above NIS 4,281, the monthly participation is 221 NIS.

In March 2021, an organization named "Joy and the national insurance fund," published a report.

Supporters: Mr. Moshe Podhorzer, Rashi Foundation

The clinic provides legal aid to people with disabilities, working within a community-based framework, utilizing the legal system to achieve improvements for people with disabilities. It is supported by Mr. Moshe Podhorzer through the Rashi Foundation.

Maimonides, the author of the Code of Maimonides, declared: ‘The support of those with disabilities is an act of love and compassion.’

The clinic operates in a network of local communities supported by the Ministry of Welfare, in cooperation with the Ministry of Health and local authorities. The clinic has opened in the first ten communities, where an evaluation plan was implemented through the Joint Brookdale Institute between 2014-2015, and then, in 2016-2017 by Dr. Avi Grifl and Udit Shwartz. The evaluation of the satisfaction of the participants in the first ten communities shows a very high rate of 85%.

The main contribution of these centers is in the development of a sense of security, assistance in daily activities, and opportunities to engage in social relations and social activities.

The clinic supports the right to assistance in groups and leisure activities, which means assistance in implementing programs related to integration, leisure, personal skills development, sports, and participating in the arts. The eligible are people with physical, sensory, or development disabilities (excluding schizophrenia, mental health, and autism) aged 12-65 years for men and 12-61 years for women, not eligible for assistance under law or ordinance.

The service inspector is authorized to approve participation in assistance activities for up to a year. The level of assistance should not exceed NIS 1,500 per month.

The right to leisure: Services for leisure include basic services (food, drink, heating, etc.) and leisure activities. One can stay for up to 25 days per year, and in a crisis up to 45 days per year. The eligible are people with physical, sensory, or development disabilities (excluding schizophrenia, mental health, and autism) aged 12-65 years for men and 12-61 years for women, not eligible for assistance under law or ordinance.

The service inspector is authorized to approve participation in assistance activities for up to a year. The level of assistance should not exceed NIS 1,500 per month.

The right to education: The right to education is the right of every child to receive an educational program in a way that is suitable for his abilities and does not harm him.

The clinic provides support to 51% of educational needs, and the remaining 49% is provided by the local communities. The report is based on data found in a report published in 2018.

The Disability Rights Clinic provides services to support information stations for visually impaired and vision impaired individuals. These stations are located in eye clinics and are intended to provide relevant information and shorten the process of obtaining rehabilitation services for those affected by vision.

Framework for leisure activities for the visually impaired and vision impaired. These frameworks include opportunities for advice and support, personal and inter-personal skill improvement and skill development. The rights holders are blind individuals; for those who do not hold a blind certificate, on the recommendation of the ophthalmology department.

The rights and benefits granted by the department of rehabilitation in the Ministry of Health's Central Rehabilitation and Education Program.

The daily rehabilitation program - it is a daily rehabilitation program, providing employment for people with severe, deep and social disabilities, with low physical function and low independence. The right is for individuals aged 12 and upward who were declared by the committee as individuals with a physical disability in medical and/or social rehabilitation, who are not able to integrate into the labor market and even not into protected employment. The employment is part of the rehabilitation plan in which the employee is placed and is performed in a small group with a trainer. In addition to the employment characteristic, the program provides the following services: formulation of a rehabilitation plan by professionals, a midday meal, medical and dental services, equipment and aids for training and personal skill improvement.

The participation in the framework is at 21% subsidy. Those who are not able to reach on their own are entitled to assistance and sometimes even partial parent participation. In addition, parents are required to bear the costs of transportation: if the parents receive a car or a mobility budget for their child they must pay up to the mobility budget level. If not, they must pay a sum of a round trip by car for each day of activity.

Framework - a rehabilitation and training factory.

The framework is a combination of a rehabilitation and training center with a place of work. The goal is to prepare the older person for work, responsibility and independence, and to prepare them for training. The framework includes a variety of social frameworks that provide employment for people with severe disabilities, deep and social disabilities, who are not able to integrate into the labor market and even not into protected employment. The clinic provides services for children with disabilities in the personal, social, and vocational fields, based on their needs and the committee’s decisions.

Supporting Services:

1. Personal Assistant

Personal Assistants help children with disabilities aged 6-28, coming from families where the parents have limited functioning or have difficulties in the personal, social, or educational fields. They assist in one or more of the following areas: strengthening the child’s self-image, creating a positive environment, encouraging the child to make connections with children of their age, enriching the child’s world, encouraging academic success, learning to manage their studies and improve their relationship with their parents and siblings. The need is determined by the social worker

2. Personal Treatment

When the family of a child with disabilities finds it difficult to function due to the high demands required for care and education, they are entitled to personal treatment. The need is determined by the social worker

3. Assisted Living

An experienced, professional worker assists a person over 28 years old with disabilities in their home, in one or more of the following areas: coping with daily life, managing the household, integrating into society, integrating into the labor force, exercising their rights, and connecting with institutions in the community. The maximum number of hours is 31 per month, for up to half a year.

4. Help in Shitufim

A professional worker assists a person with disabilities in their home in one or more of the following areas: coping with daily life, managing the household, integrating into the community, integrating into the labor force, exercising their rights, and connecting with institutions in the community. The maximum number of hours is 31 per month, for up to half a year.

5. Help in Shifun Children

A professional worker assists children aged 1-3 with physical, sensory, or mental disabilities, whose condition allows them to participate in a regular day center or family. The right is not automatic and depends on the local social services and the welfare officer’s decision.

Parent participation is required for personal assistants, personal treatment, and assisted living. Parent participation for children in personal treatment and assisted living is 15% of the child's allowance. People with disabilities who receive special services are entitled to funding of 51% of the allowance.

51: Summer Camp

These camps are intended for children and young people with disabilities living at home. The camper receives a sick benefit and is required to participate in these camps for 51% of their benefit. If the camper does not receive a sick benefit, participation will be according to the ability level as determined by the welfare office.
